

Kelly and Jack Osbourne spruce up for the night, looking less rock 'n' roll than retro as they join their parents Ozzy and Sharon at Elton John's Oscars bash (above). Naomi Campbell shimmered in a dazzling outfit by Versace, while Victoria Beckham opted for a white Azzedine Alaïa dress bought for her by David and set off by £1 million-worth of diamonds. The former Spice Girl looked every inch the film star, coping with poise and grace as she mixed with Hollywood royalty both at Elton's and, later in the night, across the road at the Vanity Fair party, where Elton himself eventually

Naomi made a showstopping appearance dressed in Versace while Victoria looked ice-cool in pure white and £1 million of diamonds at her friend Elton John's star-spangled fundraiser
