the rings Rock Star ring in 18kt gold set with diamonds and a choice of center stones (near right: pink tourmaline), Stephen Webster; 800-981-8862. Union Jack ring in 18kt gold with ruby and enamel, Solange Azagury-Partridge, $16,000; Maxfield, L.A., 310-274-8800.

behind the scenes When Webster got a commission for a souped-up version of his Rock Star ring, he had no idea whom he was making it for. "I heard rumors it was Axl Rose or Elton John," he says. "I found out it was Ozzy when I saw him wearing it—I was thrilled." As for Azagury-Partridge's ring, the designer thinks the appeal may be that it reminds Osbourne of home. "English people living abroad are attracted to [the Union Jack] to express their Englishness."

OZZFEST • (ozzfest.com) Ozzy himself, the Ozzfest... pretty but it totally rocks... out pop-up bios of all 26 bands on the tour, including System of a Down, P.O.D., and such unheralded second-stagers as Meshuggah and Otep (the only female-fronted act on the bill). B+

Poll
PEOPLE.com asked: A TV show, a CD, a book... how much more Osbournes can the public stand?

Le 5 mars, le réseau MTV diffusera le premier «reality show de situation» de l'histoire de la télé en présentant The Osbournes. Cette tragicomédie familiale mettra en vedette le rockeur Ozzy Osbourne — père, star et mangeur de souris —, qui joue son propre rôle aux côtés de sa femme, Sharon, et de deux de ses adolescents. The Madman ne change pas de carrière pour autant: il est toujours très actif au sein du groupe Black Sabbath.
