OSZY OSBOURNE PREMIERE, TRIBECA FILM FESTIVAL

Kelly: "I'm turning into my mum"

The Osbournes were out en masse last week at the premiere of God Bless Ozzy Osbourne – a documentary about Ozzy's life, co-produced by his son Jack. To complete the Osbourne love-in, daughter Kelly took the opportunity to tell reporters she wants to become her mum Sharon when she grows up. Er, OK...

"[I accepted] that harsh reality where I woke up and realised 'I am my mother!'" she said. "But if I could be anyone, I'd be her!" By our reckoning, that's at least another 50 years of dogpoos in the post, catfights with Aussie pop stars and oodles of plastic surgery. We can't wait.

WHAT? God Bless Ozzy Osbourne premiere at Tribeca Film Festival

WHERE? BMCC Theatre, New York

WHO? Ozzy, Sharon, Kelly and Jack Osbourne; Paz de la Huerta

Kelly wore a Vivienne Westwood jacket and Agent Provocateur corset. Ooh!
